Welcome!

This is the inaugural issue of The Principal Chorus, the new quarterly newsletter of ROBERT I. COULTER - ORGANBUILDER. We will use this newsletter to keep you informed with our projects, new staff members and events of musical interest in the Southeast. The newsletter will also be filled with humorous cartoons, anecdotes and useful tips on helping to keep your pipe organ functioning properly and sounding wonderful.

We would like your help to make this newsletter as good as possible, so please submit your concert information or other items of interest to us at;
news@coulterorgans.com.

Thank you all and again, welcome to The Principal Chorus!

New 3,000 Sq. Ft. Workshop in Atlanta, Georgia

We are proud to announce our new workshop at 2233 Faulkner Road in the heart of Atlanta. This new work space includes climate controlled spaces for voicing and re-leathering. The rear workshop is outfitted with a complete wood shop and staffed by woodworkers with over 45 years of combined experience. The workshop also allows for erecting of complete organs in shop to properly install and test new and restored instruments.

With this new space, and our growing staff of experienced organ technicians we are the fastest growing pipe organ company in the Southeastern United States. We are also very proud to be the ONLY firm located within I - 285, which allows us to serve all of our clients better. We are closer to our in town clients, and when visiting our out of town clients we are lucky to travel against rush-hour traffic.

Our shop is a non-smoking facility and is located off Cheshire Bridge Road at 2233 Faulkner Road. Our normal business hours are 9am - 5pm Monday through Friday. When we are working in the shop the door is open and we welcome visitors!

Feel free to drop in anytime!

Sincerely,

Robert I. Coulter

Morningside Presbyterian Church

Our project for Morningside Presbyterian Church is nearing completion with dedication services scheduled for November 2007. Though it is evident that music was a prominent part of worship at Morningside from its organization in 1925, a pipe organ was not a resource until the completion of the current building in 1949. A new Wicks organ arrived in October of 1956. It's design still shows the influence of Henry Vincent Willis who had been tonal director for the Wicks Company until World War II.

In the fall of 2006, we were contracted by the congregation of Morningside Presbyterian Church to rebuild and enlarge their 1956 Wicks organ. In this project, in addition to updating the console with modern playing aids and systems, we will be installing all new electro-pneumatic wind chests in the Great/Choir chamber to both allow for better use of space and to provide the opportunity for tonal additions.

It has been a pleasure to work with the staff and vestry of Morningside Presbyterian to help ensure the future of fine music for this congregation. Our firm is dedicated solely to the preservation and care of quality pipe organs such as this one. It is an honor to assist the church in this project.

esse quam videri

With the new workshop, and having the pleasure of welcoming new clients and staff this summer it is an exciting time!

I am very grateful to the friends and clients who have been supportive in getting this company going and with these new developments it will only help us to serve you better.

Just because we are busy with projects, please do not think we are too busy for your needs. It is our pleasure to both build and service pipe organs and will always do our best to accomodate your requirements. Helping you and your pipe organ create a moving religious service for your congregants is our pleasure.

Soli deo Gloria!
